Join us for a simulation on “What it is like to have dyslexia.” This event is a hit each year so sign up asap!

The simulation takes participants through what it is like to try to read and perform language related tasks with a reading difficulty or dyslexia.

This is a very eye-opening simulation and it can be a very emotional one. We encourage you to bring your spouse and anyone who may be interested.

As always, our meetings are open to parents and educators. Contact hours are available. We invite you to join us.
